Dear Fellow Runners,

Congratulations on completing the St. Luke's Half Marathon and 5K!

I hope that you had a great experience. I certainly did. This was my ninth St. Luke's Half Marathon. And as always, the people – runners, volunteers, spectators – were full of the good cheer and camaraderie that make this event so special.

St. Luke's University Health Network is proud to support the Lehigh Valley Road Runners' efforts to promote exercise and wellness in our community. It is fitting that such a positive event takes place just down the road from St. Luke's Allentown Campus, where this year I began serving as president.

Whether this was your first race or your hundredth, you should be proud of your accomplishment. As a long-time runner, I have seen and experienced first-hand the many benefits associated with our sport. Fitness is a key component of good health, and the more we encourage regular exercise, the healthier we can make our community.

I am pleased to report that hundreds of St. Luke's employees, family and friends participated either as volunteers or runners in this year's event. Everyone who ran is a champion – from the children in the Youth Run to the thousands of other runners who completed the Marathon or 5K.

St. Luke's University Health Network takes great pride in supporting this wonderful event year after year, and I hope you will encourage your friends and family members to sign up for next year's races. Together, let's promote health and fitness in our community!

Sincerely,

William Moyer

Welcome to Lehigh Valley's Allentown!

Congratulations on making the commitment to participate in the St. Luke's Half Marathon activities! All of your hard work will pay off!

At Discover Lehigh Valley® we're proud of the long tradition of highly competitive running events in the Lehigh Valley, and the St. Luke's Half Marathon is one of the best.

The Lehigh Valley is home to three cities, Allentown, Bethlehem, and Easton – each having undergone incredible transformations, with things still evolving. The host of this race, Allentown, is known for its beautiful parks, two of which you'll be running through, Cedar Creek Park and Lehigh Parkway. And did we tell you they are the largest?

Aside from hitting the pavement and trail system, you'll find the real action is downtown. Anchored by the PPL Center, a multi-purpose arena, and the adjoining 170-room Renaissance Allentown Hotel, a new breed of restaurants and retailers await you. From Allentown Brew Works and Hamilton Kitchen & Bar to Grain, Queen City BBQ, Bell Hall, Centro, Nosh and others, there are many options to curb your hunger and quench your thirst for something different. The Arts Walk is home to boutiques and dining, and leads you to the Allentown Art Museum of the Lehigh Valley.

If you have the time, make sure to discover the rest that Lehigh Valley has to offer. From the Crayola Experience® in Easton, the Martin Guitar factory tour and museum in Nazareth, The National Landmark District in Historic Bethlehem and the rebirth of an arts and entertainment campus on the site of the former Bethlehem Steel in South Bethlehem, we guarantee you'll be back time and again to discover all Lehigh Valley has to offer you and your family.

Visit DiscoverLehighValley.com and start planning your return trip. We'll be sure to "Lift Your Spirits" this trip and the next.

Have a great race!

Sincerely,

The Discover Lehigh Valley Team

Half Marathon Winners Take Their Fourth Title

The 2017 winners of the St. Luke's Half Marathon repeated the wins in the 2018 race, including Easton resident Ian Walsh, who ran his best-ever half marathon time.

Carly Shea, of Lewisburg, Pa., was the female winner in the race, which featured over 1,500 runners.

Nearly 500 runners took part in the sister St. Luke's 5K, both of which took place Sunday morning, starting at William Allen High School and ending at J. Birney Crum Stadium. It was the 34th running of the race.

Walsh, 32, won the race in 1:08:46. He ran with a group of three other men through about mile 7 before he split from the group and went on to win the 13.1-mile race.

"I think it helped I had three other guys running with me," he said. "The weather was perfect."

In addition to 2017, Walsh also won the race in 2013 and 2015. He runs the race most years.

"I just love running at home," he said.

Two weeks after winning the St. Luke's Half, Walsh competed in the U.S. Track and Field Half Marathon Championships.

"I didn't run particularly well after the short layover between races," Walsh said. "I ran about a 1:12:49."

Shea, 39, also was the women's winner in 2015 and 2016, in addition to 2017. Her time Sunday of 1:20:49 was her slowest time in the race by a few seconds, but she said she didn't expect to run her fastest since she's in the midst of marathon training and was running 95 total miles this week.

"I knew the outcome wouldn't be as fast as years past, but I was hoping to be at my marathon pace, which I was," she said. "I just really, really like this race – it's such a positive experience." The 5K winners were Shane Artis, 15, of Allentown, with a time of 16:51 and Georgia Wiswesser, 14, of Walnutport, with a time of 19:43.

The St. Luke's race series also featured a Family Fun Walk on Sunday and a Youth Run on Saturday. The races are put on by the Lehigh Valley Road Runners, and all the race proceeds support community and youth running efforts in the Lehigh Valley.

One of the oldest half marathons in the country, the St. Luke's Half Marathon had its origin in 1977 with a full marathon organized by the Lehigh Valley Athletic Association, a predecessor to the LVRR. It was switched to a half marathon in 1984 and has been run continuously every spring except for a cancelled race in 1996. The 2018 St. Luke's Half Marathon marks the 41st year of long distance racing provided by the LVRR.

The half marathon course records are held by John Kagwe, 1:04:49 (March 26, 1995) and Anne Marie Lauck, 1:15:49 (March 15, 1998).

THE COMEBACK KID

BY HEATHER MAYER IRVINE

For 16 years, Scott Stackhouse, 59, has run the St. Luke's Half Marathon. When he finished last year, there was no doubt he'd run the race in 2018, earning himself his 17th medal.

But shortly after the 2017 race, Stackhouse started to have an unusual feeling on his runs.

"It was a tightness in my chest," he said. "When I first noticed it, I was at the six-mile mark of a 10-mile run. I stopped when I felt the tightness and rested for a couple minutes and then continued with my run."

But over the summer, the tightness kept coming back. It was severe enough that eventually it forced Stackhouse to stop twice over the course of just one mile.

During this time, Stackhouse was undergoing a series of tests with a cardiologist. On October 17, 2017, tests showed that he had a 90 percent blockage in one artery and a 50 percent blockage in another.

"[The doctors] didn't waste any time," he said. "Early the next morning, on October 18, I had double bypass surgery at St. Luke's Fountain Hill."

The team at St. Luke's helped Stackhouse recover as soon as possible.

"I chose the St. Luke's Half as my comeback race," Stackhouse said, who ran as part of the St. Luke's team. "I wanted to honor the doctors, nurses, nurse assistants, cardiac rehab personnel, and anyone else who had any involvement in my surgery and recovery."

MIND OVER MATTER

BY HEATHER MAYER IRVINE

It was a brain aneurysm that prompted Gina Cooke to take up running. Seventeen years ago Cooke, now 38, was given a very grim prognosis after her aneurysm.

"But I beat the odds and survived when I was 21," she said. "I always said that after not just surviving, but thriving, and recovering from the brink of death, I would run a marathon, or two half marathons until I can get to that full marathon."

Two years after that neardeath experience, when Cooke was 23, she started to run. She ran her first half marathon in November, 2016. Three years ago, however, she had another brain aneurysm. But with treatment she overcame, and ran the 2018 St. Luke's Half in 2:26:31.

"I run for brain aneurysm survivors and those who were taken too soon in hopes of raising awareness about this silent killer," she said. "I have two kind, strong, and amazingly awesome little girls, and we want them to know that taking care of their health is the number-one priority in life."

OUT OF BREATH

BY HEATHER MAYER IRVINE

Mark Lindenmoyer, 35, was never a fitness guy. He'd never run a race longer than a 5K before the 2018 St. Luke's Half.

"I would periodically run a few miles and try and keep in shape, but for most of my life, I was in good shape without having to work out," he said.

But on March 27, 2017 everything changed. Just nine months after Lindenmoyer's second child was born, Lindenmoyer almost died.

"I woke up with a sore throat, nothing unusual in a family with two kids in daycare," he said. "I went to work. An hour later, my throat felt much worse. I couldn't swallow and had flu-like symptoms, so I went home to get some rest."

Lindenmoyer slept on the couch for a few hours, but when he woke up he couldn't talk. He visited urgent care and was sent home with a diagnosis of the flu and strep throat. But Lindenmoyer couldn't swallow the medication pills. He took a shower to try to clear his throat.

"By the time the water hit my face I started having trouble breathing," he said.

Lindenmoyer's wife, Kara, came home and the two rushed to the emergency room. Halfway there, he stopped breathing. A 911 dispatcher told Lindenmoyer instructed him how to hold his head in a way that would allow him to draw breath.

At 9 p.m., in the emergency room, Lindenmoyer drew his last breath. His heart stopped.

"An anesthesiologist, to whom I owe my life, spent 10 minutes intubating me," Lindenmoyer said.

He spent the next four days in the ICU on a ventilator, waiting for the swelling in his throat to go down so he could breathe on his own again. He was discharged six days later with a diagnosis of epiglottitis, which happens when the flap that covers your windpipe swells and blocks air from entering the lungs.

"I had a new outlook on my mortality," Lindenmoyer said. "The most difficult part of the entire experience was seeing my kids when they came to visit me. It was then that it really hit me that I was mere minutes away from not being able to see them grow up."

While the doctors told Lindenmoyer he's not at risk for this happening again, they recommended getting into shape to spend more quality time with his family.

A few months after his discharge, Lindenmoyer was ready to start running. But his hospitalization took a toll, and he couldn't run a mile without stopping.

"I was determined to reach my goal of getting back up to a 5K," he said. "With my newfound motivation, I was able to achieve that rather quickly. So I set my sights on the 10K, which seemed like a stretch."

But Lindenmoyer hit his 10K goal in the summer of 2017.

"Then I read about the St. Luke's Half Marathon and noticed the race would be in April 2018," he said. "I was discharged in April 2017 and thought it would be amazing to run a half marathon—four times the distance I was able to run before—one year after almost dying."

Kara also signed up for the race—she had ever only run a 5K—and his 3-year-old daughter was entered in the Youth Run.

"We proudly ran to celebrate my life, which just a year earlier, was no guaranteed thing," Lindenmoyer said.

He crossed the finish line in 1:58.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING

BY HEATHER MAYER IRVINE

Ivannah Butete, 11, is a veteran racer: She's run five races, which explains why she wasn't nervous for the 2018 St. Luke's Youth Run.

"I was actually all hyped up," she said. "I was excited about running with my friends, not to mention about the snacks at the end. They always bring you brownies and a bottle of water."

Butete knows about the power of positive thinking, too, even when the going gets tough.

"I always think about the good stuff [when I run]," she said. "I say in my head, 'You are going to do great. I am a winner. Nothing can stop me. I'm almost there.'"

> I SAY IN MY HEAD, 'YOU ARE GOING TO DO GREAT.'

Butete, who helped raise money for her school, plans to be a lifelong runner.

"I will run again, and again, and again because I love running," she said. "I think running is an amazing sport and it is good for your health. You can think about the bright side, and there's not really a bad side."

Except, of course, "the part when you are all tired and you can't breathe."

ALL ABOUT THAT SCHOOL SPIRIT

BY HEATHER MAYER IRVINE

Not only did Montana Nagle, 12, push through race-day nerves, she helped her school win first place in student participation for the St. Luke's Youth Run.

"I was nervous because it had been a few months since I ran," she said. "I was most excited about helping my school raise money, and I felt good being a part of that."

Nagle, who has run cross country since kindergarten, used her school spirit to motivate her during the race. "During the race I thought that it was worth coming I HAD A GREAT
ACCOMLISHMENT
THAT I DID SOMETHING
GOOD FOR MY

to represent my school and not just sitting at home," she said.

And the sense of accomplishment Nagle felt crossing the finish line extended beyond the actual run.

"I was relieved that the race was over, and I had a great sense of accomplishment that I did something good for my school."

She plans to run again, for the challenge and for the sense of community.

"When I run, it allows me to let go of little worries. It kind of grounds me."

TRY THESE RECIPES TO FUEL YOUR RUNS AND RECOVERY

BLACK BEAN BROWNIES

Jamie McKeon,
Director of Nutrition for
St. Luke's Half Marathon

This simple substitution greatly reduces the fat content of regular brownie mix, and increases the fiber and protein content. There is still sugar in the mix, so you still don't get to eat the whole pan. Sorry!

INGREDIENTS

- 1 15.5 oz. can of black beans
- 1 brownie mix
- 1 pan sprayed with oil (or non stick)

INSTRUCTIONS

Spray 9" \times 9" baking pan with oil or non-stick spray.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Pour beans and liquid into blender and puree. In a mixing bowl, combine brownie mix with pureed beans.

Stir with a spoon.
Fold into pan.
Bake as directed on box.

SWEET POTATO NOODLES WITH GARLIC AND KALE

Jamie McKeon,
Director of Nutrition for
St. Luke's Half Marathon

Makes 4 servings (as a side)

INGREDIENTS

- 2 medium sweet potatoes, spiralized
- 1-2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil, enough to well coat the pan
 - 3 garlic cloves, thinly sliced sliced
- 1/4 teaspoon red pepper flakes, more as desired
- 2-3 tablespoons water
 - 4 cups baby kale (or thinly sliced kale)
 - ► Sea salt and freshly ground black pepper

Serve with cup of fresh basil, sliced dollops of pesto, 2 tablespoons hemp seeds or toasted pine nuts Grated pecorino cheese, optional

INSTRUCTIONS

Peel the sweet potatoes. Slice in half and cut the pointy tips off. Place in the spiralizer and spiralize into noodles. Alternatively, you can use a julienne peeler (although this is more difficult, so I recommend spiralizing).

Heat the oil in a large deep skillet over medium heat. Add the garlic and cook until the garlic slices are lightly golden brown, about 5 minutes, reducing the heat if necessary (i.e., if the olive oil is bubbling too much, turn the heat down, you do not want the garlic to burn). Add a few generous pinches of salt, red pepper flakes, and a few grinds of freshly cracked black pepper.

Add the sweet potato noodles and toss to coat. Let cook for 2 minutes, gently tossing and scraping down the sides of the pan.

Add 2 to 3 tablespoons of water and toss again to ensure that nothing is sticking to the bottom of the pan. Cover and let the sweet potato noodles continue for 5 more minutes or until they start to soften and are tender but still have a crisp "al dente" bite. Check and toss occasionally so that they cook evenly. Be careful not to overcook or they will start to break apart (this happens quickly).

During the last minute of cooking, stir in the kale so that it wilts into the noodles. Remove from heat and transfer to 3 or 4 bowls.

Serve with the fresh basil, a dollop of pesto, hemp seeds or pine nuts and pecorino cheese, if desired.

BUTTERNUT SQUASH QUINOA BOWL

Heather Mayer Irvine, Author The Runner's World Vegetarian Cookbook

This dish is super easy, tasty, and a great source of plant protein, thanks to quinoa. For a little extra healthy fat, top with sliced avocado. (Let's be honest, everything is better with avocado.)

INGREDIENTS

- 2 cups cubed peeled butternut squash
- 3 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- ▶ Salt and ground black pepper, to taste
- 1 cup quinoa, rinsed
- 1 medium red onion, chopped
- 1½ cups coarsely chopped kale
 - 1 apple, cored and chopped
 - ½ cup dried cranberries

INSTRUCTIONS

Preheat the oven to 400°F. On a large baking sheet, toss the butternut squash with 2 table-spoons of the oil and a generous sprinkle of salt and pepper. Roast, stirring halfway, for 25 minutes, or until the squash is browned and tender.

Meanwhile, cook the quinoa according to the package directions.

In a medium skillet over medium heat, heat the remaining 1 tablespoon oil until shimmering. Add the onion and cook for 5 minutes, or until softened. Stir in the kale, cover, and cook for 3 minutes, or jus until the kale wilts slightly.

In a serving bowl, toss together the kale mixture, squash, and quinoa.

Season with salt and pepper, and top with the apple and cranberries!

Available for preorder on Amazon for October 9 release!
